

Title	UNDERSTANDING YOUR LEAVE BENEFITS
Short Description	This article provides a clear overview of your leave benefits, covering the different types of leave available, eligibility requirements, and how to apply. Whether you're planning a vacation, dealing with an emergency, or managing health needs, this article helps you navigate your options and make the most of your benefits.

Part 1. Type of Leaves

Standard Leave Benefits

Leave Type	Eligibility	Allotment	Details	Conversion
1. Service Incentive Leave (SIL)	Employees who have completed one year of service from the date of hire.	5 days (after a year of service)	Can be used for sickness or vacation leave. If an employee leaves the company during the leave period, any unused leave will be paid out in their final pay. However, if they used more leave than they earned, the extra amount will be deducted from their final pay.	Unused SIL at the end of the availment period can be converted to cash, calculated at the employee's daily basic pay rate.
2. Vacation Leave (VL)	Upon regularization of employment status	120 hours *Additional 8 hours for every six (6) years of service	Requires advance application and approval.	For Executive Payroll Employees – Not convertible to cash For Corporate Payroll Employees – 100% cash conversion of unused VLs, calculated at the employee's daily basic pay rate
3. Sick Leave (SL)	Upon regularization of employment status	120 hours *Additional 8 hours for every six (6) years of service	Continuous absences of more than three (3) days require a medical certificate signed by a medical practitioner.	50% cash conversion of unused SLs, calculated at the employee's daily basic pay rate.

Parental and Family-Related Leave

Leave Type	Eligibility	Allotment	Details	Conversion
1. Expanded Maternity Leave (EML)	Female employees, regardless of civil status, employment status, and number of pregnancies.	105 days for regular delivery 60 days for miscarriage or emergency termination	Continuous and uninterrupted, enjoyed before (prenatal) or after (postnatal) the period of delivery. Employees must notify their employer about the pregnancy within a reasonable time.	Not applicable
2. Paternity Leave (PL)	Married male employees, regardless of employment status, whose wife gives birth, suffers a miscarriage, or undergoes an abortion (up to 4 times)	7 days	Can be taken before, on, or after the event but not later than 60 days from the date of birth/miscarriage/abortion. Prior notification of the pregnancy should be given to the employer except in emergency situations involving miscarriage or abortion.	Not applicable
3. Solo Parent Leave (SPL)	Solo parent employees with at least one year of service.	7 days	Given on top of vacation and sick leave. Non-cumulative.	Not applicable

Special Leave for Women and Protection

Leave Type	Eligibility	Allotment	Details	Conversion
1. Special Leave Benefits for Women (SLBW)	Female employees with at least six months of service. Female employees who have gynecological disorders and will require her surgical procedures such as hysterectomy, ovariectomy, and mastectomy are covered.	Up to 60 calendar days	Given on top of company-provided leave benefits and used only after company leave benefits are exhausted.	Conversion not applicable
2. Violence Against Women and Their Children (VAWC) Leave	Female employees who are victims of violence.	10 days	Can be utilized on a straight or staggered basis during the application of any protection order, investigation, prosecution, or trial related to the case. The leave can be used anytime as required by the circumstances surrounding the protective measures or legal proceedings.	Conversion not applicable

Special Circumstance Leave

Leave Type	Eligibility	Allotment	Details	Conversion
1. Emergency Leave / Bereavement Leave (EL/BL)	Employees after one year from the date of probationary hire or six months after regular hire.	64 hours	For natural disasters such as fires, typhoons, earthquakes, or death of immediate family members. The cut-off date for availment is December 31 each year.	Not applicable
2. Nuptial Leave (NL)	Employees who have completed one year of service and are getting married.	56 hours	One-time leave starting on the day of the wedding.	Not applicable

Part 2. Leave General Guidelines

Leave Entitlement

- Initial Leave Balance: The 40 hours of Service Incentive Leave (SIL) will be included in the initial VL credits.
- Separation from Company:
 - Unused Leave Credits will be converted to cash and included in the release of final pay.
 - Used Leave Credits which are in excess of the accrued/earned leaves will be deducted from the final pay.
- Prolonged Leave of Absence Without Pay:

Excess used leave credits will be deducted from the succeeding year's new leave credits.

